america isn't real

happyhopeful24

i don't feel like america is real sometimes it just feels like it's a magical distant land of ihob, dunkin donuts and eagles, full of patriotism and horrible measurement systems like narnia

or oz

or asgard

or the shire

but it ain't as cool as those 16

happeh

people come into our lives for a reason bringing something we must learn we are led to those who help us most to grow & we help them in return i don't know if i believe that's true but i know i'm who i am today because i knew you

america isn't real

glamoroussneaking1

it's not magical either

What do you mean?! We have a great measurement system. In Celcius the temperature changes two degrees and you need a new outfit.

As an American, I can confirm that we don't exist.
We are just a void.

I literally cannot stop laughing because that's exactly how I sometimes feel. Even though I'm American,I view most people as devoid of sympathy or respect.

Haha I think Maryland is partially real. DC is real and Baltimore is real, but everywhere else in MD is practically nonexistent. When my county or even Maryland shows up on a map for the weather channel or something, my sisters and I jokingly tell each other, "Oh, look. Maryland exists!"
